

“Education needs to be re-envisioned to include the cultivation of wisdom, as well as learning to live in society and overcoming oppression and exploitation. For education to be more effective, it has to be dialogical, inclusive and compassionate, and needs to heal the rift between body and mind.”

Participants will develop mindfulness through daily practice and be trained to unlearn and relearn to make their life and contribution relevant, meaningful, and rooted in ancient wisdom while being resilient in the present. As well as developing critical and systemic thinking this participatory, contemplative, reflective, creative course will rejuvenate your energy, broaden your perspective and enhance your skills to become an effective and dynamic leader for change in the 21st century.

The course is designed and facilitated by accomplished, experienced people with decades of experience teaching new paradigm leadership empowerment courses in Southeast Asia, China and UK. Parts of this course are certified by SEM College & Gaia Education. You will be eligible to receive an Advanced Ecovillage Design Education certification, and Mindful Facilitation for Empowerment - Training of Trainers (ToT) certification. These certifications can also contribute towards a certified Masters degree (at pilot stage). The course can be booked as a whole or by module.
